

Specere

okamura

A chair for the rhythm of modern work

No two workdays are the same. Plan, align, focus, collaborate, meet. Today's teams shift gears constantly. They need the workplace to be contemporary, inspiring and practical. Chairs shouldn't just look good. They must be comfortable, supportive, easy to adjust and move. Specere is designed for this modern, dynamic work life.

Touchdown for teams

Connect teams across settings with harmonious classic style.

A modern take on the mid-century swivel chair. Specere's classic, open form conceals a range of contemporary innovations. Take a seat. Adjust the height. Specere does the rest for you. Each sitter gets unique support, based on their weight and movement. Roll it between settings, to host a bigger group. Its style and performance suit any work zone and create an inspiring and comfortable team experience.

B4K GmbH

Andreas Krob, an industrial designer founded B4K with his wife Uta Krob in 2001. Their studio stands for innovation, sensitive design and exacting standards across the fields of design and architecture. Within this context, each fitting and furnishing speaks its own formal language, each part has its own unique character. Andreas's exceptional innovative and conceptual capability has resulted in numerous design prizes and several international patents. Together, with long term collaborator, technical manager and engineer, Joachim Brüske, Andreas of B4K introduces Specere.

Features

Full, responsive back support. Specere tilts slightly forward and through to a 12° recline. The backrest also tracks natural movement, flexing from side to side. Control the height using a simple steel pin. Specere does the rest responsively.

Sustainability

Specere has been designed with the environment in mind. By limiting the number of materials and components we have lowered the carbon footprint through production and distribution. While built to last, Specere's components can be disassembled for recycling.
